With a view to promoting active cooperation of the various State Governments in India as also the universities and learned institutions in the country in the activities of the Commission, the Government of India by their Department of Education, Health and Lands Resolution No.F 92-9/40-E, dated 10th September, 1941, took steps to reform the Constitution of the Commission providing for the inclusion in it of nominees of the various State Governments in India as also those of the Universities and learned Societies.

2. The Commission has since its inception held Fifty-Eight Sessions and has contributed significantly to the growth of public interest in the conservation and use of archives. The Government of India do recognize that it was through the initiative of the Commission and its different Committees that many new sources of information have been brought to light and saved for posterity, many collections of documents have been published and made accessible to scholars, facilities for the use of records have been materially enhanced and a new conscience has been aroused in the public mind in respect of the sanctity of historical evidence. While the Government of India note with deep appreciation these and other achievements of the Commission, they do feel at the same time that much work still remains to be done and that a host of important problems are still awaiting to be attacked. Many records collections are still without any guides or hand-book let alone comprehensive descriptive lists, and very few repositories, public or private, have yet developed a well-articulated programme of documents-publication. Most of the collections still continue to be housed in primitive conditions and are subjected to the ravages of insect pests, moulds and other destructive agents. Very little systematic effort has been made to survey, describe, organize or make use of records in private custody, and particularly, those of institutional, religious or commercial provenance. Lack of trained archivists continues seriously to impede the archival work in the country and the training facilities available in the National Archives have hardly stimulated an adequate response among the owners of archival holdings. Government believe that these constitute very serious lacunae in the academic life of the nation and that greater and more whole-hearted cooperation between Keepers of Records and historical materials on the one hand and their use on the other is the only means by which these deficiencies could be removed.

* Ministry of Culture, Government of India, Resolution No. F.32-34/84-Lib.(P&A), dated 15.10.1990 and amended vide corrigendum, dated 14.02.1992, F: 18-15/96-Lib.II dated 25.11.96, and F.No. 18-20/2002-A&A dated 10.6.2002

3. In order to promote such cooperation the Government of India, in supersession of Ministry of Culture Resolution No.32-34/84-Lib. (P & A) dated 15.10.90 and all earlier Resolutions on the same subject, are pleased to sanction a reconstitution of the Commission on the following lines :-

ANNEXURE XIII

THE RIGHT TO INFORMATION ACT, 2005

No. 22 of 2005

[15th June, 2005]

An Act to provide for setting out the practical regime of right to information for citizens to secure access to information under the control of public authorities, in order to promote transparency and accountability in the working of every public authority, the constitution of a Central Information Commission and State Information Commissions and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.

Whereas the Constitution of India has established democratic Republic;

And whereas democracy requires an informed citizenry and transparency of information which are vital to its functioning and also to contain corruption and to hold Governments and their instrumentalities accountable to the governed;
